Director, Gainesville Community Reinvestment Area

“Cities have the capability of providing something for everybody, only because, and only when, they are created by everybody.”

–Jane Jacobs, The Death and Life of Great American Cities

During the last decade, referred to as the “Twenty-10s,” the team at the Gainesville Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) delivered projects and programs that literally shaped the rebirth of Gainesville’s urban core. Think about life before Depot Park and the impact one project has made on bringing the community together; literally where east meets west.

Community Redevelopment Agencies are dependent special districts set up by local governments under Chapter 163, Part III of the Florida Statutes. This model was an effective tool for many years and as the tax increment grew in most of the four redevelopment areas, so did the magnitude and importance of the CRA’s work. However, even the best of tools have their limits. Eastside and Fifth Avenue / Pleasant Street were only contributing eight and nine percent of the CRA’s total revenue respectively, making it difficult for those areas to see the transformational growth Downtown and College Park / University Heights were experiencing.

In 2018, the City of Gainesville and Alachua County began a pivotal conversation around how to take a successful agency, limited by its construct as a traditional CRA, and rethink a way forward. Negotiations culminated with the joint commissions executing an agreement which called for a ten-year plan, consolidating of the four CRA’s into a single district, creating a fixed revenue stream from the City and the County, and transitioning the CRA into the Gainesville Community Reinvestment Area (GCRA), a new City Department. The big idea was to take the best of the CRA’s history and build upon that with a renewed focus in the areas that need the investment most.

In order to complete the transition, the GCRA lead the community through a consolidation of the four CRA Redevelopment Plans into a single district GCRA Reinvestment Plan. This new plan will guide the Department’s work over the next decade. The Plan includes information about the CRA’s past, including a report on the final year as a statutory CRA in 2019, and speaks to the future with tangible goals to be met. The well-attended engagement process illustrated the passion, dedication and support the community has for reinvesting in the people and places within the District.

The GCRA team is grateful for the collective participation, advocacy, and support for repositioning the GCRA Department for success and we look forward to “The ‘20’s” and the impact refocusing our efforts for the next decade will have on Gainesville as a whole.

Lee R Feldman

ICMA-CM, Gainesville City Manager

As your new neighbor, I am excited about the launch of this new GCRA 10-Year Reinvestment Plan. The strategic initiative that has been undertaken by the City Commission, in cooperation with the County Commission, will allow for the critical application of resources to address our most significant redevelopment needs under one unified district.

This plan was not created in a vacuum, but rather, together with our neighbors. We have been inspired by your enthusiasm to address the issues which affect our City; by your willingness to develop solutions; and, by your tenacity to engage in the creation of this plan.

The tasks set out by this plan will be neither simple nor easy to implement. But with your support, we will get it done. I am excited to work with you and be part of a great team as we build community in the GCRA.

Lauren Poe

Mayor, Gainesville

As a Gainesville Resident, City Commissioner, and then Mayor, I have been a long-time supporter of the Gainesville Community Redevelopment Agency. I was proud of our CRA and its reputation for being one of the most successful and innovative CRA's in the State of Florida.

But as we saw success, we also saw areas of disinvestment in our City and recognized the need to take new approach to reinvesting in our community. The opportunity to restructure the CRA, to improve upon what was working and rethink what was not, has been embraced by our community because they see the potential for the kind of growth they are seeking.

The 10-Year Reinvestment Plan on the following pages is the result of six months of public workshops, surveys, stakeholder meetings, data analysis, community engagement, and honest conversations. The goals of the Reinvestment Plan reflect the needs of our evolving community and the people who call Gainesville home. This plan is a win for the City of Gainesville and Alachua County.

About the Gainesville CRA

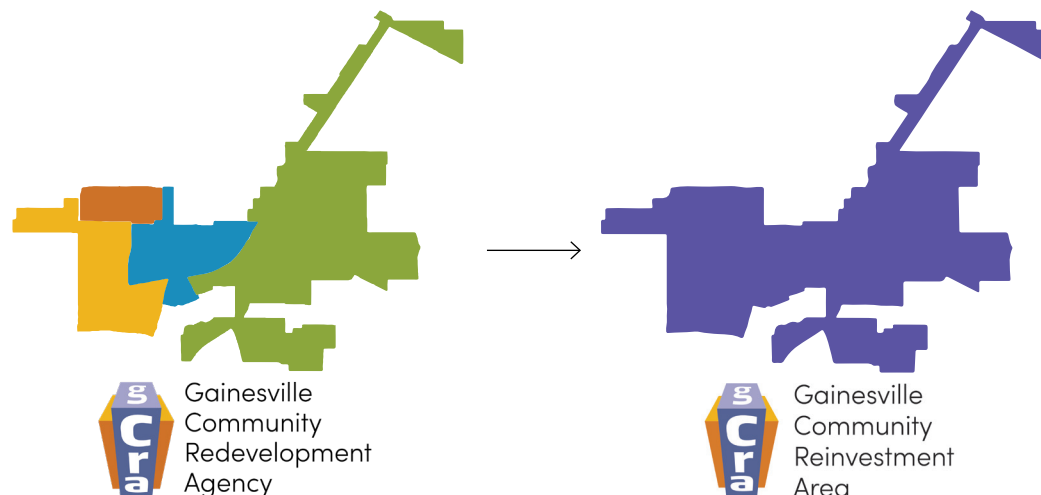

The City of Gainesville established the Gainesville Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) by the authority of Sections 163.330-163.45, Florida Statutes. By 2001, the Gainesville CRA was made up of four discrete redevelopment districts, each with its own redevelopment plan, advisory board, and funding:

Fifth Avenue / Pleasant Street - established 1979 / expanded 1989

Downtown - established 1981 / expanded in 2001

College Park / University Heights - established 1995 / expanded 2005

Eastside - established 2001 / expanded 2006 & 2010

The CRA's work in Gainesville centered on helping underserved areas attract private investment through community partnerships, competitive economic development incentives and improved public infrastructure. Projects ranged from multi-million dollar capital projects such as the construction of Depot Park and the revisioning of South Main Street to $750 residential paint grants.

The transition of the CRA from a statutory agency to a City Department occurred after a years-long, state-wide discussion regarding the future of all CRAs resulted in an uncertain future for the agency. The City of Gainesville and Alachua County Commissions wished to create a solution that would address local issues and also insulate the CRA from future state legislative mandates. The local solution was reached through the restructuring and renaming of the agency.

The Gainesville Community Reinvestment Area (GCRA) was created through the adoption of Ordinance 181001, which went into effect on October 1, 2019. The ordinance dissolved the CRA and created the GCRA, a department of the City that reports to the City Manager, is governed by the City Commission, and is guided by a citizen advisory board. Under the new structure, the GCRA will operate in a single district with a set budget for ten years, guided by this Reinvestment Plan.

Community Vitality Report Findings

Through research, interviews, and surveys, the 2016–2017 Community Vitality Report identified six principles that, from the community's perspective, produced successful redevelopment initiatives. These principles were used in the creation of this plan and for the development of future reinvestment projects.

Layers:

Initiatives that combine and address multiple objectives make the most of time, talent, and resources.

Connectivity:

Initiatives that connect one successful CRA initiative to another and one neighborhood to another, finding areas of overlap to capitalize on momentum and resources.

Scale:

Maximize reach and impact in the community by engaging in initiatives of all sizes – from small and incremental to large and transformational projects.

Authenticity & Integrity:

Initiatives should be Gainesville specific. Historical, cultural, and artistic celebrations of our special vibe.

Partnerships:

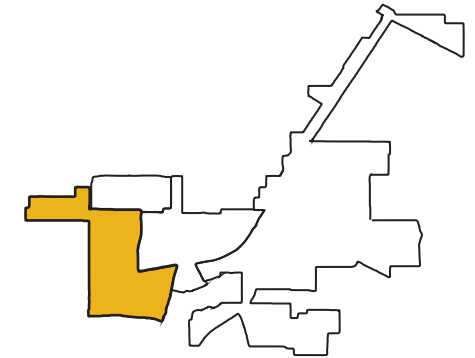

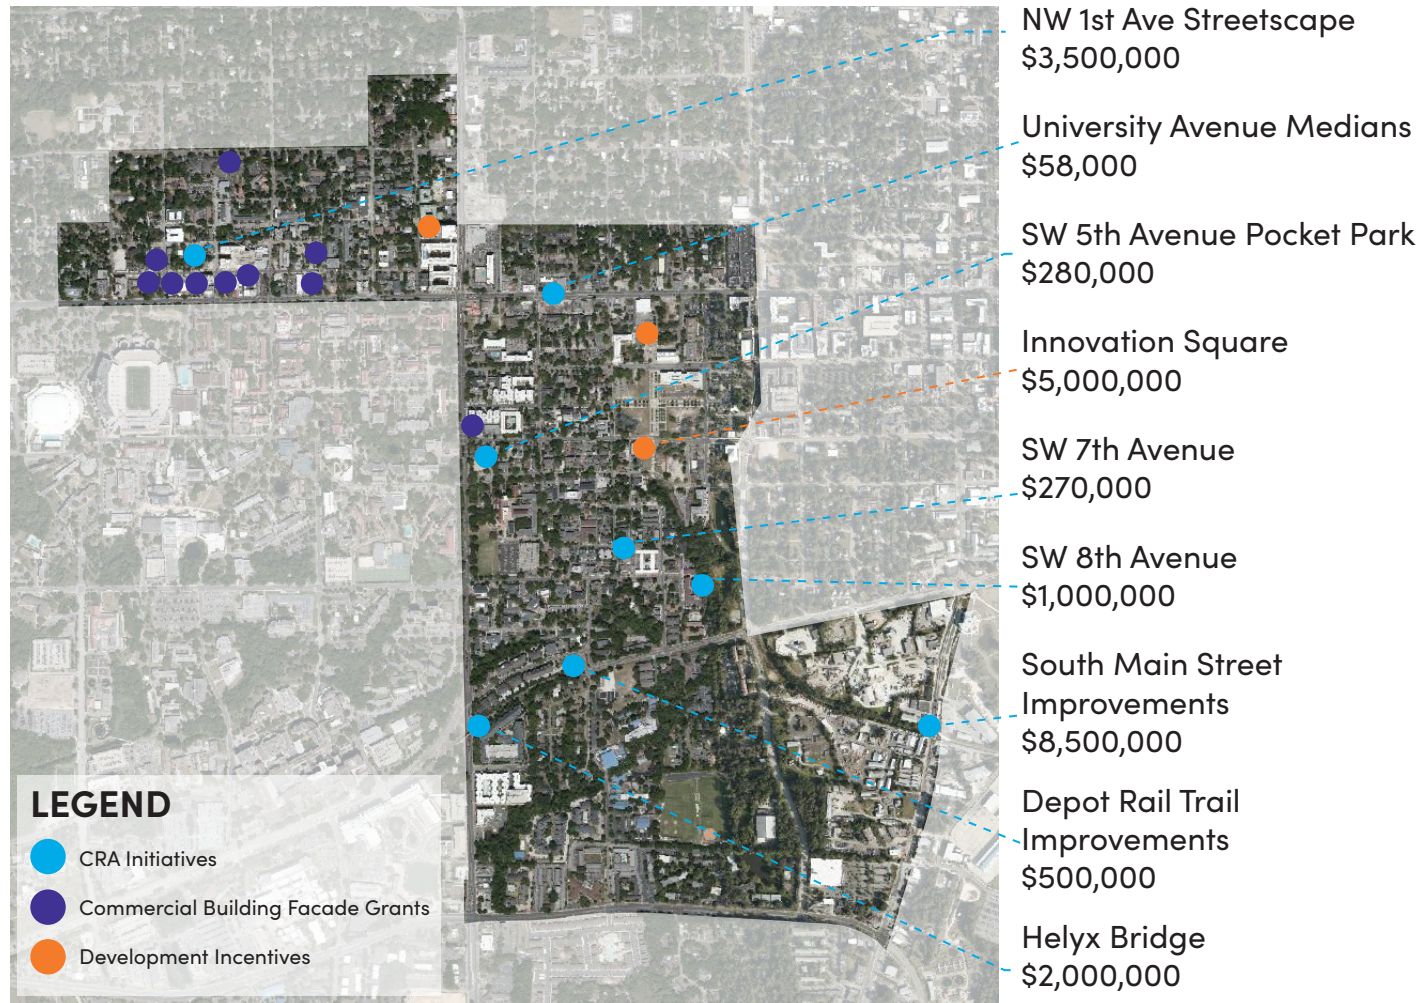

Fostering relationships across sectors and disciplines as well as non-traditional partners can increase chances for long-term success.

Health & Safety:

Streetscapes, facades, public art, and signage, all contribute to more activity-friendly communities.

Land Use Economics Comparison

Property Potential Value Growth

In a 2016 study, data on property values within Alachua County was analyzed as a way of measuring the impact of the CRA's initiatives on the community. It was made clear that reinvestment works. The top three properties (value per acre) in the Downtown district were made possible through CRA programs which include The Hampton Inn Downtown, Union Station and The Palms.

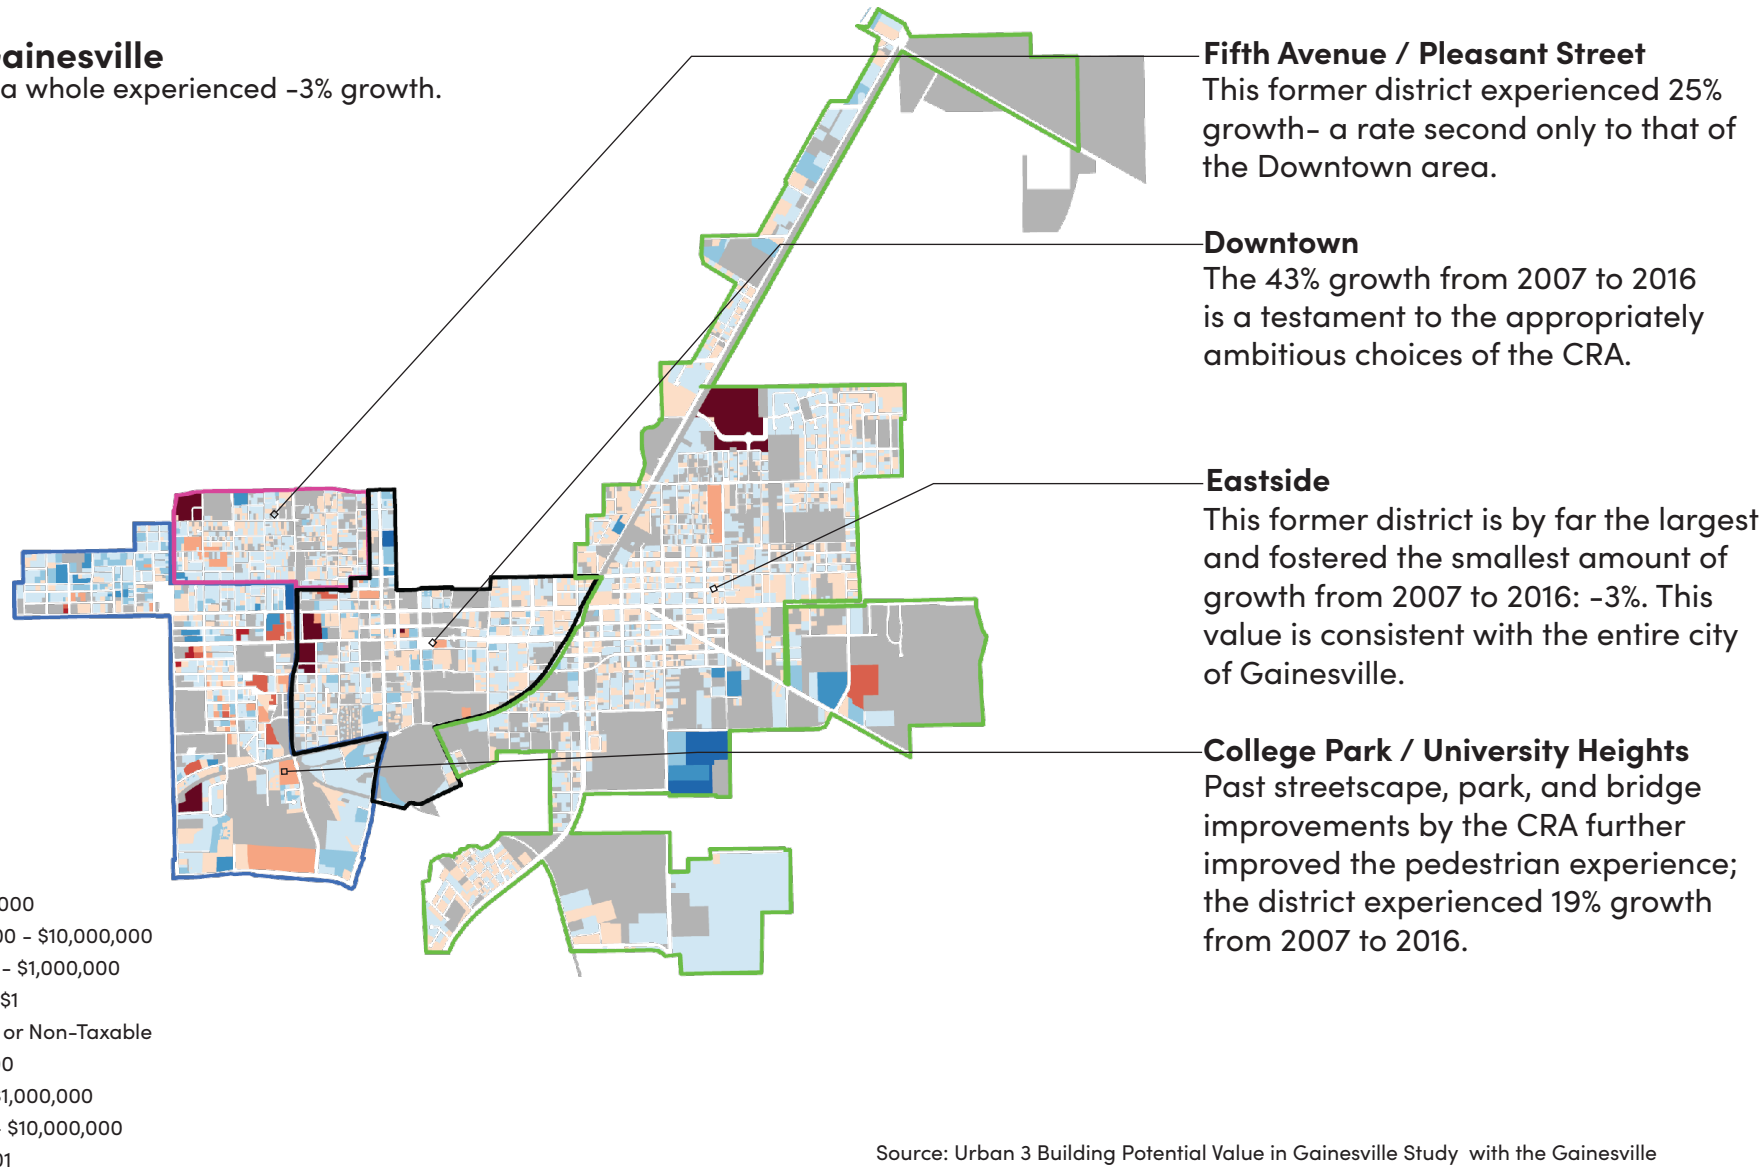

Taxable Value Growth

Based on the same study, three out of the four districts experienced significant taxable value growth in 2016. Taxable value is the value of property used in determining the amount of tax the owner will pay. An increase in this value reflects not only property value increase, but an amount of tax revenue which pays for redevelopment.

City of Gainesville

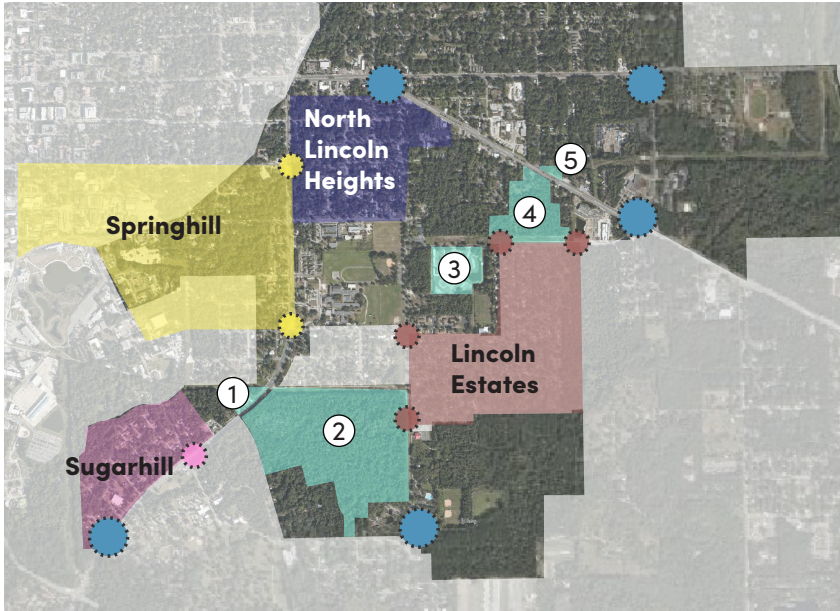

The city as a whole experienced -3% growth.

Precedent Studies: Plan East Gainesville

Plan East Gainesville was created as a framework to help balance the desires for expanded economic, commercial, and residential growth while preserving the natural environment and the “peaceful” qualities of East Gainesville. The intention was to provide market driven guidance regarding development opportunities in East Gainesville that would have positive effects on the surrounding community.

The Goals of this Plan are:

- Expand the range of housing choices to attract and retain residents with a variety of income levels.
- Target specific areas for mixed use development centers that can support and sustain higher levels of employment, commercial, and social activities.
- Protect vital natural resources, such as the watersheds, creeks, tree canopy, and scenic vistas.
- Create opportunities for increased walking, bicycling, and transit use through compact development patterns, urban design, and development of new facilities and services.
- Improve the inter-connectivity of the transportation system to minimize impacts to the state highway system and ensure improved accessibility between East Gainesville and other parts of the Gainesville urbanized area.

This plan was prepared for the Metropolitan Transportation Planning Organization by the Renaissance Planning Group. This plan was created in association with Alachua County, City of Gainesville, Gainesville Regional Utilities, and the Florida Department of Transportation in February 2003.

UF Strategic Development Plan

The plan was created through a nine-month period in 2016 for the University of Florida by a consultant team comprised of Elkus Manfredi Architects and DumontJanks. A steering committee comprised of leaders from the University, the City, and the County was also formed for this process. The purpose of the Plan is to contemplate the next 50 years for the University and its critical partnership with the City and the County. The assignment was divided into three phases: Analysis and Visioning, Strategies and Objectives, and Implementation and Branding.

← N.E. 16th Avenue

The Infinity Line is a concept which proposes connecting existing trail infrastructure in Gainesville. Unused or underused railroad and utility infrastructure easements would be repurposed to connect existing trail infrastructure in a continuous loop. The connector trails include NE 16th Avenue connection, Wetlands Preserve connection and a pedestrian bridge at Five Points, the intersection of East University Avenue and Waldo/Williston Roads.

This concept uses Depot Park as a nucleus for the Gainesville community to gather, the Infinity Line acts as a way for Depot Park to reach back into the community and provide direct, car free access to Gainesville neighborhoods.

The intention is to create a large, vibrant, public space that residents and visitors may use to exercise, commute, or enjoy as they see fit.

Ponce City Market: Atlanta, GA

In 2014, Ponce City Market began to reopen the fully renovated Sears, Roebuck & Company building, restoring its prominence as a vital landmark in Atlanta. Linked directly to the Atlanta BeltLine, and situated across from Historic Fourth Ward Park, the iconic stretch of Ponce de Leon Avenue is a major part of the redevelopment movement at the crossroads of Atlanta's most established neighborhoods.

At the heart of Ponce City Market is the marketplace itself, a flexible space to gather, eat and shop. In the Central Food Hall, artisan chefs and local purveyors fill an authentic market with the design, food, and flavors of Atlanta. From morning coffee to lunchtime shopping and date-night dinners, the Central Food Hall is a daily gathering place and culinary destination, year-round.

Retail shops and offices add to the life, color, and culture of Ponce City Market and surrounding neighborhoods. Residents of the Flats apartments in the upper floors of the east and west wings are just a few steps or an elevator ride from workplaces, shopping, the Central Food Hall, and direct access to the BeltLine. Atlanta neighborhoods of Virginia-Highland, Poncey-Highland, and Midtown are all within easy walking or pedaling distance.

Ponce City Market is focused on building community connections, and has incorporated a pedestrian network, public green spaces, and access to the Atlanta BeltLine corridor—all within the revitalized historic property. As a community hub, Ponce City Market adds the in-town convenience and comfort of highly desirable retail around the Central Food Hall, as well as exceptional Flats apartments and Class-A loft office space.

Plan Performance Data

Achievements of CRA Redevelopment Goals

College Park/University Heights

The completion of the South Main Streetscape in FY19 was a major contributor to the transformation that the formerly industrial area has undergone in the past five years. The South Main Streetscape addressed the following goals of the redevelopment plan: Infrastructure, Parking, Urban Form, Traffic Circulation; Private Investment; Public Spaces; and Funding, Financing, Management, and Promotion.

The South Main corridor has experienced a major shift from industrial to destination-oriented businesses, with private investment from retail, food, and other local businesses.

Downtown

Bo Diddley Plaza was renovated in part by the CRA in 2016 and in FY19 was successfully transitioned to the City of Gainesville's Department of Parks, Recreation, and Cultural Affairs. The plaza renovations included upgraded safety features and a restaurant on the premises. Increased programming and activities and dedicated staff on-site have all contributed to the reactivation of a formerly underutilized public space in the heart of Downtown Gainesville. Redevelopment goals that were addressed through this project are: Economic Development; Commercial and Business Activity; Infrastructure: Sense of Community; and Funding, Financing, Management, and Promotion.

Achievements of CRA Redevelopment Goals

Eastside

Cornerstone is the redevelopment of the 13.6-acre campus surrounding the Gainesville Technology Entrepreneurship Center (GTEC), a property that is owned by the City and managed through a partnership with the CRA and Santa Fe College. The CRA completed the first phase of redevelopment through the construction of infrastructure that will support future construction. The CRA recruited the first new business to build on the campus, Merieux NutriSciences, who moved in to their new facility in FY19. Cornerstone addresses the following redevelopment goals: Economic Development and Innovation; Commercial Activity; Infrastructure; Urban Form; and Funding, Financing, Management, and Promotion.

Heartwood is a new neighborhood that will soon be under construction less than a mile from Cornerstone. Heartwood will address Housing, Infrastructure, Urban Form, Sense of Community, and Funding, Financing, Management, and Promotion.

Fifth Ave/Pleasant Street

The Fifth Ave/Pleasant Street Heritage Trail is a planned initiative that is an extension of the A. Quinn Jones Museum & Cultural Center, a CRA-led project that was completed in 2017. The Historic Heritage Trail will create a physical system of signage and markers in the Fifth Avenue and Pleasant Street neighborhoods to recognize the achievements of people, past and present, in the fields of business, medicine, arts, education and spirituality. The project will gather, verify and prioritize existing historical research; identify historic and significant sites; and create an overall Interpretive Plan that will form the basis of the trail system. The redevelopment goals addressed through this initiative are: Historic Preservation; Urban Design; Open Space and Recreation; and Funding, Financing, Management, and Promotion.

Plan Performance Data

Affordable Housing Expenditures

Affordable Housing for low and middle-income residents is a consideration for the Heartwood neighborhood in the Eastside CRA, and the Porters and Pleasant Street Model Block Initiatives, in the Downtown and Fifth Ave Pleasant Street CRA's, respectively. In FY19, the City Commission approved to provide financial assistance for 11 of the 34 homes in the Heartwood neighborhood. The 11 homes will be market rate with downpayment assistance for qualified homebuyers that will bring the monthly mortgage to a more affordable amount. The funding will come from general government funds through a partnership with the City's Department of Housing and Community Development in the amount of $575,000.

The Porters and Pleasant Street Model Block initiatives will provide infill housing in two historic neighborhoods and will encourage long-term homeownership that will maintain the community fabric. In FY19, $35,000 went towards surveying and initial planning for the Pleasant Street Model Block initiative.

Reinvestment Plan Process & Development

October 1, 2019: Community
Redevelopment Agency transitions to Gainesville Community Reinvestment
Area as a City Department

2020

2030

Redevelopment Area Consolidation Process

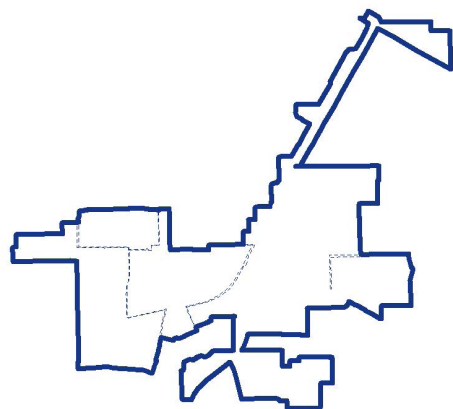

The four former redevelopment districts have been combined into a single district. This plan is the new guide to the single district.

Under the new structure, the GCRA will operate within a single district with a set budget for ten years, guided by this Reinvestment Plan.

This plan was created through a public process involving community workshops, stakeholder meetings, surveys, and other outreach. The four former redevelopment plans and the CRA's 5 year (FY19-23) roadmap were used as starting points.

One District

The GCRA dissolved the inner boundaries, creating one consolidated district.

One Budget

The GCRA will have one consolidated budget for the reinvestment work capped at $7.5 million each fiscal year. The budget will be capped at approximately FY18 values.

*The dotted line indicates what the projected budget would have been under the previous structure.

One Decade

The GCRA will continue this reinvestment work as a city department through fiscal year 2029.

*The dotted line indicates what the projected budget would have been under the previous structure.

Evaluation Criteria for GCRA Reinvestment Workplan Initiatives

GCRA Initiatives must meet at least one criteria per category. Initiatives addressing multiple objectives are often the most successful.

Is the initiative located in the Reinvestment Area?

☐ Yes

Does the initiative address a GCRA Reinvestment Plan Objective?

☐ Public Space & Streetscape

☐ Community Enhancement & Housing

☐ Economic Development

Does the initiative consider an existing City plan, project, or initiative?

☐ Promotes Equity & Inclusion

☐ Plan East Gainesville

☐ Wild Spaces Public Places (WSPP) Program List

☐ Adopted Capital Improvements Program List

Does the initiative address one or more themes identified through the Community Vitality Report?

☐ Layers:
Initiatives that combine and address multiple objectives.

☐ Connectivity:
Initiatives that connect one successful GCRA initiative to another and one neighborhood to another.

☐ Scale:
Maximize reach and impact in the community by engaging in initiatives of all sizes.

☐ Authenticity & Integrity:
Initiatives should be Gainesville specific. Historical, cultural and artistic celebrations of the City's special vibe.

☐ Partnerships:
Fostering relationships across sectors and disciplines as well as non-traditional partners can increase chances for long-term success.

☐ Health & Safety:
Streetscapes, facades, public art, and signage all contribute to more active, and friendly communities.

Identifying Reinvestment Objectives

Over the course of six months, community and stakeholder input was recorded to form a collection of projects and programs that were identified as priorities for reinvestment efforts.

Opportunity Zones

A majority of the Gainesville Community Reinvestment Area falls within the boundaries of one or several Opportunity Zones. An Opportunity Zone is land in a low income area that is designated for federal tax advantages on certain investments. This information is valuable in determining opportunity areas to help encourage private investment.

Land Use

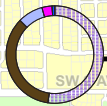

Some key priority reinvestment areas were selected and analyzed to determine if the current land use designation will translate to the proposed future use of the site.

	Mixed Use Residential		Urban Mixed Use 2
	Priority Investment Area

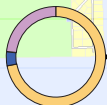

Innovation District

Area is currently 52% urban mixed use and 35% residential high which is great for economic development in progress.

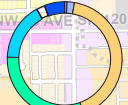

Porters Community

Area has a strong mix of 72% low density residential and 23% low density mixed use.

Pleasant Street

Area is currently 42% residential low and 31% mixed use high. This area could use more recreational and educational areas for families.

Power District

Area is currently 74% public institutional land. This could use more commercial and mixed use designation to foster economic development.

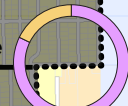

Duval Neighborhood

Area is composed of 65% single family land use. The area could use more mixed use space and recreation for families in the area.

NE 8th Avenue / Waldo Road

Area is currently 79% mixed use low. This could be expanded to include denser land use designations.

Cornerstone / Hawthorne Road

Area is currently 100% mixed use low. This could be expanded to include denser land use designations.

Note: Zoning regulations, encompass limitations such as the type, size, height, number, and proposed use of buildings. These regulations are fully enumerated in the City of Gainesville Land Development Code.

Land Use (Examples from Former CRA)

Some CRA projects have turned sites into seemingly unexpected uses with regards to previous land use designations.

A. Quinn Jones Museum & Cultural Center

The A. Quinn Jones Museum & Cultural Center is located in the Fifth Avenue / Pleasant Street district in a low density residential area. The CRA-led restoration and adaptive reuse of the educator's former home created a space that preserves and celebrates the life and legacy of Principal Jones and the history of the neighborhood.

Power District

The Power District is a unique 17-acre site consisting of inactive GRU facilities, located in southeast Gainesville between Downtown and Depot Park.

Depot Park

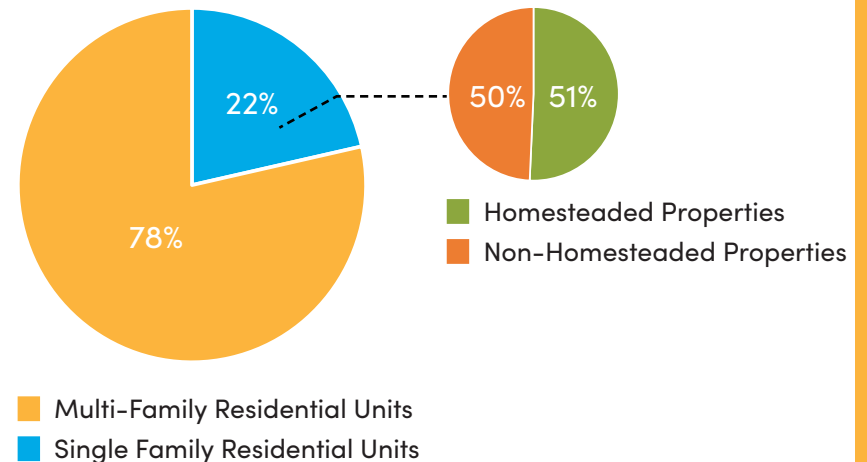

Depot Park is a former brownfield site with several forms of contamination (gas stations, cement plant, railroad activities, petroleum tank farms, etc). The CRA transformed the site into a contemporary greenspace for all residents to enjoy in the Downtown area.

The Reinvestment Area contains approximately 3,328 acres and is comprised of a mixture of land uses such as commercial, industrial, government, and residential.

Residential uses are present throughout both mixed-use urban areas and in traditional urban neighborhoods such as the Porters Community, SE Historic District, Duval, and others. Residential patterns vary from low density single family dwellings to medium and high density multifamily developments.

According to the Florida Geographic Data Library, in 2018 there was recorded approximately 12,670 residential units in the GCRA district.

City Owned Properties

These areas are properties currently owned by the City of Gainesville as of March 5, 2020.

LEGEND

Land Acquisition (Example from Former CRA)

Land acquisition identifies underutilized or vacant properties for redevelopment. This can help provide a better and more efficient use of land.

802 NW 5th Avenue Commercial Building

The 802 NW 5th Avenue Commercial Building served as the CRA office as well as ground floor commercial space for several local start-up companies. This building is also a LEED certified Green Building from the U.S. Green Building Council.

1714 SE Hawthorne Road

In 2010 the CRA renovated a vacant cinderblock building on SE Hawthorne Road and built additional square footage to transform it into a restaurant shell. An RFP was completed for a restaurateur to enter into a lease-to-purchase agreement.

Circulation

Based on the existing bicycle facilities and multi-use trails, the circulation has been categorized based on the potential experiences that could be enhanced. The dashed lines represent proposed paths to achieve a more comprehensive trail system.

- Constraint: Intersection could benefit from art feature to bring people into trail.

+ Opportunity: Extend historic bike path through the historic Downtown core.

+ Opportunity: Connect Bo Diddley Plaza to art trail.

+ Opportunity: Incorporate existing Rail Trail path to connect to Flatwoods Conservation Area.

- Constraint: East Duval Neighborhood is in need of circulation connections to activate the community.

Enhanced Experiences (Examples from Former CRA)

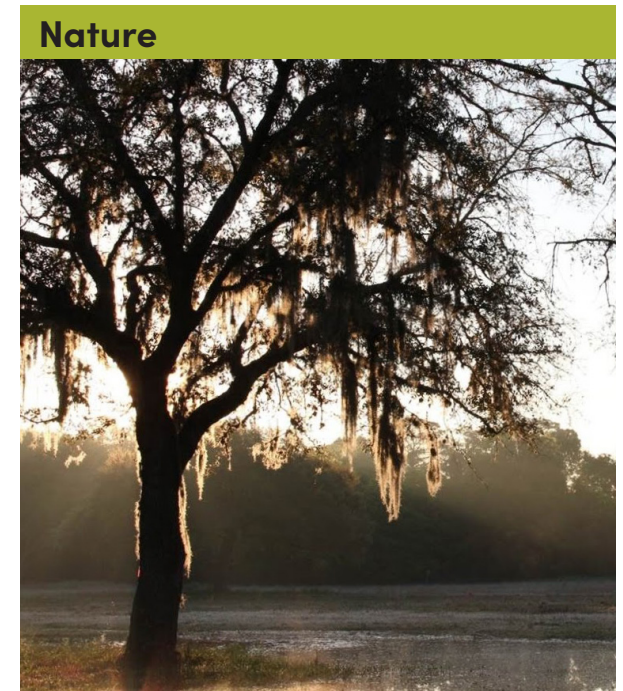

Art, history, and nature are a few of the top celebrated characters of Gainesville. A thoughtfully developed circulation network will connect the currently scattered resources into a system that not only enriches people's experience in multiple dimensions, but also creates opportunities for the growth of local businesses and new venues.

Legendary funk & soul singer and Gainesville native, Charles Bradley, performed at the reopening of Bo Diddley Plaza on February 25, 2016. Gainesville is known for its eclectic mix of musical influence. Hosting events to celebrate these notable artists from Gainesville is important to the unique character of the city.

The home of Principal Jones was converted into a museum and cultural center that celebrates his inspiring life and the people he influenced. Preserving and celebrating influential pieces of history is important in order to foster a sense of community and shared identity.

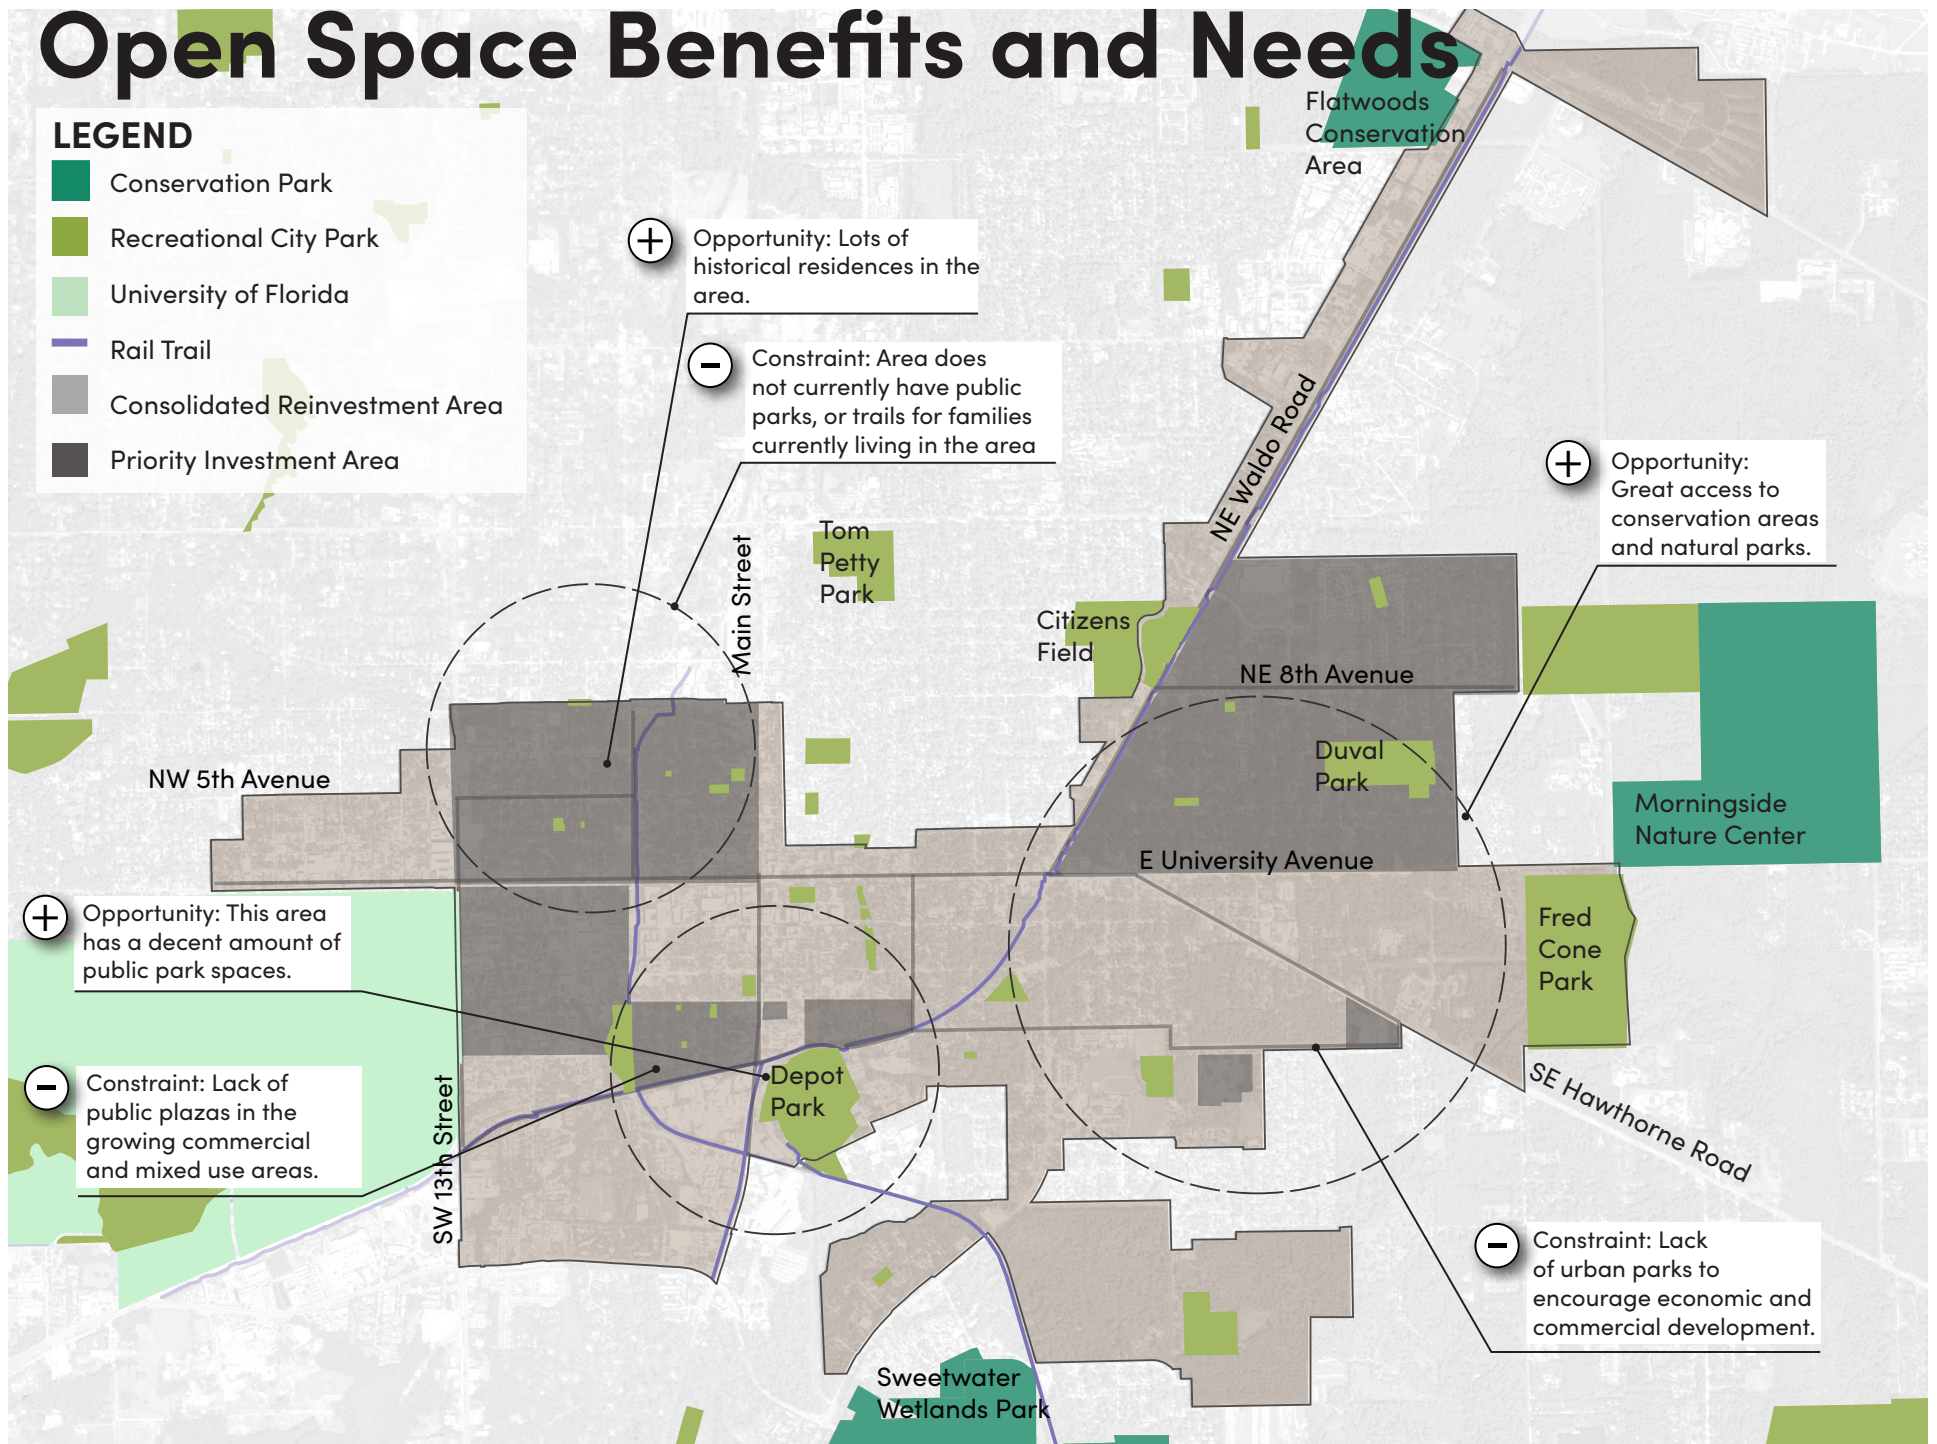

Gainesville is home to beautiful trees and natural areas. Maintaining some of these spaces as conservation areas is not only good for the environment, but could also be used for as trails for residents encouraging a healthy lifestyle and learning opportunities.

Greenway

Trails such as the Depot Rail Trail encourage a healthy lifestyle for residents. These trails can also connect different destinations across the City, so residents have access to necessities including commercial areas, parks, schools, etc.

Recreation

Depot Park is located in the former Downtown redevelopment district in a former industrial area. This 32 acre park has transformed the area and is utilized by residents and visitors alike.

Nature

There are many beautiful trees and natural areas in Gainesville. Protecting these natural elements is important for wildlife. The existing network of conservation parks around the former Eastside district could be extended to connect with residential areas.

GCRA Reinvestment Roadmap

Fiscal Years 2020-2029

The FY20-29 Reinvestment Workplan Roadmap was developed through an all-inclusive process with multiple validations along the way. The Roadmap not only reflects the voices from the communities, but also incorporates the GCRA and consultant's vision as well as the City's priorities.

The GCRA's 10-year budget will be allocated to the following three categories of spending: Community Enhancements & Housing, Economic Development, and Public Space & Streetscape. The following Economic Development, Public Space & Streetscape, and Community Enhancements & Housing projects and programs were selected through the public engagement process held from the fall of 2019 through the spring of 2020. This culminated in the approval of the GCRA Consolidated Plan by the City Commission on March 5, 2020.

The GCRA and City of Gainesville will update and prioritize actions on an ongoing basis to complete initiatives within the budget.

Appendix B: Residential and Neighborhood Considerations

Reinvestment planning efforts are focused on supporting and strengthening the existing community through an improved built environment and the creation of new economic opportunities. GCRA planning efforts will not be directed towards the large scale demolition and removal of existing neighborhoods. Rather, plans call for a systematic improvement through concerted efforts aimed at enhancing commercial opportunities, infrastructure, urban form, economic development, and sense of community within the Reinvestment Area. Potential negative consequences of such initiatives may include an increase of traffic, noise and general congestion. With proper planning, however, many of these worrisome side-effects can be mitigated and the full benefits of increased activity can be realized. Solutions to negative consequences should be sought through thoughtful project design and implementation. (For example, issues such as increased traffic congestion can be addressed through creative remedies such as bike lanes, traffic calming, increased transit connectivity, and/or pedestrian-friendly streetscapes.) In short, long-term adverse impacts to residential neighborhoods are not expected as a result of reinvestment activities.

Housing Relocation Procedures

City of Gainesville Ordinance 181001A, Section 2-410(2) requires community reinvestment plans include assurance for the provision of replacement housing for the relocation of residents temporarily or permanently displaced from housing facilities within the Reinvestment area. The intent of this Reinvestment Plan is to create a dynamic and diverse community that is attractive, accessible, and economically sustainable. Pursuing and achieving this vision will require substantial capital improvements relating to infrastructure, right-of-way, transportation networks, public spaces, private property, etc. Outright displacement of permanent residents is not foreseen; however, if relocation of permanent residents is required as a result of the development or reinvestment activities, the City and the GCRA shall consider assistance to minimize hardship of those being displaced.

Displacement and property acquisition programs, if any, shall be in accordance with any programs adopted by the City of Gainesville Housing Division, as well with the City's Comprehensive Plan Housing Element and the Goals, Objectives and Policies found therein. The City or the GCRA may assist any person who is required to move from any real property as a direct result of the City's or GCRA's acquisition of such real property for public purposes, by locating other sites and housing facilities available to them as replacement dwellings. When planning the location of land acquisition for public purposes the City or the GCRA may assess the degree of displacement that may occur. The City of Gainesville or the GCRA shall not be responsible for relocating City residents who are displaced as the result of county, state, or federal programs or actions. The GCRA may follow the relocation policies and procedures established by the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development when federal dollars are involved.

Existing properties may be temporarily impacted during the construction of any improvements. Impacts may include construction detours, noise and dust. Impacts are expected to be minimal while the benefits of reinvestment activities will be of long duration, adding to the quality of life by providing a safe and attractive district that has adequate business opportunities, lighting, sidewalks, open space, infrastructure, and other needed improvements. The GCRA does not foresee any effect on the school population or the need for additional community services or facilities, not already mentioned elsewhere in this Plan, to support the residential element within the Reinvestment Area.

Appendix C: Implementation of the Reinvestment Plan

Duration of the Reinvestment Plan

The reinvestment initiatives and work described in this Reinvestment Plan funded through tax increment revenues must occur within 10 years including the fiscal year in which this plan, which supersedes and replaces previous plans, is approved or adopted, which is the time certain for completing all redevelopment financed by increment revenues.

Reinvestment Plan Modification

This Redevelopment Plan may be modified in a manner consistent with City of Gainesville Ordinance 181001A, Section 2-410(2). If the Gainesville Community Reinvestment Area deems that the Reinvestment Plan be amended, it shall make a recommendation to the City of Gainesville.

Severability

If any provision of the Reinvestment Plan is held to be unconstitutional or otherwise legally infirm, such provisions shall not affect the remaining portions of this Plan.

Safeguards, Controls, Restrictions or Covenants

All GCRA sponsored reinvestment activities undertaken in the Reinvestment Area must be consistent with this Plan, the City's Comprehensive Plan, and applicable land development regulations; all such redevelopment plans will undergo review by the City Commission and other appropriate agencies.

Issues concerning restrictions on any property acquired for reinvestment purposes and then returned to use by the private sector will be addressed on a case-by-case basis to ensure that all activities necessary to perpetuate the redevelopment initiative are advanced in a manner consistent with this Plan and any amendment thereto. Such restrictions or controls may be in the form of covenants running with any land sold or leased for private use or other mechanism as appropriate.

Consistency with Other Plans

The Reinvestment Plan conforms to the City of Gainesville's Comprehensive Plan, which has been prepared by the local planning agency. Other plans, past studies, and reports done by or for the City of Gainesville have also been extensively reviewed for consistency.

Appendix D: Summary of Approvals and Next Steps

At its February 27, 2020 meeting, the Gainesville Community Reinvestment Advisory Board (Legistar #190968) made a motion to “Approve plan draft with appendix, add [the project] Hawthorne Road Corridor, and add evaluation criteria and decision framework.” GCRA Staff forwarded the Advisory Board’s recommendation to the City Commission.

The Gainesville City Commission approved, by motion, the 10 Year Reinvestment Plan (Legistar #191012) at its March 5, 2020 meeting and to “add attainable housing strategies under [the] community enhancements [objective]” Next steps include a prioritization and financing plan for the approved plan that will align with the City of Gainesville’s budget calendar for the FY21 Amended Budget.

Appendix E: Conclusions and Recommendations

This Reinvestment Plan provides a framework for an economically sustainable, accessible and attractive mixed-use district that offers visitors and residents a variety of high quality local destinations with a safe transportation network, public space facilities, and housing options in a manner that promotes a positive image for the Gainesville Community Reinvestment Area and City of Gainesville. Efforts should be focused on East Gainesville to help equalize redevelopment across the reinvestment area. Many of the projects identified in the Plan are specific and ambitious. These projects include high visibility corners, the creation of economic development programs to retain and grow local businesses, and a variety of public improvements that include infrastructure, improved mobility, a better mix of uses and an overall improved quality of life for residents. These are recommended actions going forward:

- 1. Implement economic development programs to support small, local, and diverse business. Focus efforts on identified corridors; including but not limited to road improvements, development incentives, grants, and property acquisition.
- 2. Community enhancements and housing initiatives will meet needs that are not fulfilled by existing federal, state, and city programs. The intent of these initiatives will be to make sure improvements are focused on preserving the culture and existing residential base of an area.
- 3. Public space & streetscape projects will be focused on forming partnerships with City departments and community organizations. These types of projects will improve the aesthetics and intrinsic qualities that result from the mix of uses, street patterns, public facilities, and the overall architectural character of the buildings that make up any particular place.

Realization of this plan is a 10-year effort and it is anticipated that the City of Gainesville and GCRA will continue to prioritize any projects and programs within the Community Reinvestment Area to keep the plan focused and timely. To realize effective investment, community leaders, business persons and residents must support the consolidated reinvestment objectives and continue to do so over time and changing administrations.
