

The Gainesville Zero Waste News

Lighting the Way for Recycling Right

Figuring out if something is recyclable or not can be confusing. Don't worry, you're not alone. Thankfully, the City of Gainesville created a helpful online guide to remove all the guesswork. Now, you can become a beacon of recycling know-how and share this information with friends, family, and neighbors.

Read the guide and still didn't find the answers you were looking for? Try the magic of the Zero Waste Wizard, where you can blaze a path of knowledge by searching all different types of materials to find out if they are recyclable and where to take them for repair, reuse, or repurposing.

Shinning with new confidence, take a turn at playing Ready, Set, Sort!. This is a free online interactive game that is fun for all ages. So after you've played, challenge your young ones, or even your not-so-young ones, and test all your newfound knowledge in a colorful and engaging game that will light up all parts of your brain.

For anything else that lights your fire, head over to gainesvillefl.gov/Recycle, and keep on lighting the path toward a cleaner tomorrow!

###